CHUBB

In order for an organisation to function in the global marketplace, it is essential to acknowledge the risk of terrorism and ensure cover for the cost of sustaining profitable business activity in the event of an attack.

Cover can best be provided by a company which offers global experience combined with local knowledge and cultural understanding.

Chubb's global terrorism cover offers client financial security against the threat of property damage and business interruption following an act of terrorism or civil commotion. Cover applies for operational risks and those under construction. Chubb works together with clients and brokers to tailor their product as clients' needs evolve within an ever changing security environment.
